OLD TENANTS STICK TO TOTTERING TENEMENTS.

Building Inspectors Have Condemned "Pier No. 7," but Several Remain.

"PIER NO. 7." SHOWING HOW SHE LEANS.

"Pier No. 7," as the five-story tenement, No. 72 New Chambers street, has been known for years throughout the Fourth Ward, is doomed. It has fallen under the ban of the Building Department and must come down. If it isn't torn down soon the building inspectors say it will fall of its own accord.

It was with reluctance that the order to move out forthwith was received by the tenants, many of whom had lived in the dismal old tenement for years. Ten of the families in the house made precipitous flight from the building when it was officially declared unsafe, but four families and "Pat" Daly, who keeps the saloon on the ground floor, declared they would stay until even after the roof was taken off.

Mrs. Gilhooly, Mrs. Gilchrist, Mrs. Hogan and Mrs. McCafferty, the oldest tenants in the building, declared that nothing outside of a marshal and a posse of men could dispossess them, and they vowed they would remain at least until their term of rental had expired.

"Sure and haven't we all paid our rent until the 15th of next month?" declared Mrs. Gilhooly, speaking for the rest. "If the landlord gives us back part of our rent we'll move, but so long."

The hot spell has been cruelly hard upon the children of the poor. While more fortunate youngsters have been hurried away by fond parents to the cool of the mountains or seaside these luckless babies must spend the torrid months cooped up in crowded, stuffy tenements and narrow, ill-smelling streets where few breaths of pure air can penetrate. It is small wonder so many sickened and die.

The Evening World Sick Babies' Fund sends a staff of skilled physicians among these little unfortunates, dispensing medicine and the best medical skill free of charge and relieving cases of destitution.

Money is needed to extend this great life-saving work. Each contribution, no matter how small, may help to bring health and happiness to some sick child. A benefit for the fund will be held at the Arverne Hotel, Arverne, L. I., on next Wednesday, Aug. 6. This entertainment will include some of the best vaudeville talent in America, numbering among others Lottie Gilson, the "Little Maestri," the great Williams and Walker, in their latest song, "When It's All Going Out and Nothing Coming In"; Cole and Johnson, the famous song writers and comedians in their new song, "Nobody's Looking But the Owl and the Moon"; Cecil Spooner, the Brooklyn favorite in "If You'll Be Mine, Mine"; the Great Leon, illusion-

Drunkards Easily Cured.

Mrs. Susan Clapper, of the W. C. T. U., Saved Her Husband from a Drunkard's Grave.

A simple, tasteful and odorless remedy to be given in the coffee or food has cured thousands of the drink habit. Any one can remedy in their own home and the drunkard need never know it.

Mrs. Clapper was the wife of a drunkard. She used Golden Specific, and this is what she says about it: "I thought my husband a hopeless drunkard. I prayed and wept until finally it seemed that your advertisement must come in answer to my prayers. I gave the medicine in his coffee. The next day he came home and said, 'Sweet, I don't know what has come over me; I hate the sight of liquor and I am never going to drink it again.'"

Dr. J. Haines, 3366 Glenn Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio, will send a free trial package to all who write in order that they can see for themselves that it can be given secretly and that it will positively cure. Full-sized boxes of Golden Specific are for sale in New York by Weismann & Mueller, 540 Broadway, and in Brooklyn by Benj. Rosenwald, 624-626 Fulton st.
